

Fellowship of Kilmarnock Churches

Churches continue to comply with Scottish Government guidelines as a second wave of corona virus requires more restrictions. Please check with individual churches for information as changes may occur at short notice.

Holy Trinity Episcopal Church is now open for Sunday worship at 10.30am. Anyone who cannot attend can view an Episcopal Church of Scotland Holy Communion service at <https://www.scotland.anglican.org/broadcast-sunday-worship/>.

Galston Parish Church will re-open for worship on the first Sunday in November at 11am. The church is open for private prayer on Saturdays from 11am to 12 noon. See <https://www.galstonkirk.com/> for details.

The Grand Hall Christian Fellowship has Sunday worship at 11.30am in the Pillared Hall. There is a short service of prayer, reading and preaching without music. All who have no Covid symptoms are welcome to attend. Those still shielding can watch live online.

Kilmarnock Baptist Church now offers live services in the church at 11am on Sundays.

Roman Catholic churches are celebrating Mass with limited numbers of parishioners in their churches and via video stream. Details, including booking to attend Mass in some cases, can be seen at <http://www.rckilmarnock.org.uk/>. St Joseph's Church, St Matthew's Church and Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church are also open for private prayer at times which can be seen on their newsletters at <http://www.rckilmarnock.org.uk/weekly-newsletters/>.

Winton Place Congregational Church has resumed Sunday worship services at 11am. Visitors are welcome to attend.

Services at the Salvation Army have resumed on Sundays at 10.30am. Food is distributed to people in need. For details please ring 01563-523052.

Services at St Kentigern's Church are now held in the church. To attend please book a place by phoning Tracey Grant at 07885-813420 by 5pm on the preceding Friday. Services can also be seen on their YouTube channel and on their Facebook page at 11am on Sunday. There are also readings and a prayer point on their website at <http://stkentigern.org.uk/>.

Kay Park Parish Church has Sunday worship in the church for limited numbers of people. To book a place, please ring 07394 -173977 or send an e-mail to chrchdmnstr@outlook.com . Services can also be seen at <http://kayparkparishchurch.org.uk/service/>. People who wish to listen without viewing can ring 01563-444426.

Crosshouse Church is open on Sundays for a maximum of 47 people. Details (including recordings of live services) are on the Church website at <https://crosshouseparishchurch.org/>

Online Sunday services continue at the following churches:

New Laigh Kirk services are live-streamed at <http://www.nlk.church/live.php> on Sundays at 11am. These can be viewed from this website page throughout the week. The church is open for private prayer on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 12 noon to 2pm.

Services from Central Evangelical Church are live streamed at 11am and 6.30pm on Sundays at <http://www.centralevangicalchurch.co.uk/livestream/>.

Kilmarnock South and St. Andrew's & St. Marnock's Churches share worship online. This can be accessed through: <https://www.facebook.com/Kilmarnocksouthparishchurch/> or <https://www.facebook.com/standrewstmarnocks> . It can also be viewed at <https://www.youtube.com/churchonlinekilmarnock>.